Sociology 120: Marriage and the Family
University of Wisconsin – Madison
Tues & Thurs, 9:30-10:45am
Social Science 6210
Fall 2013

Instructor: Prof. Felix Elwert
Office: 4426 Social Science Building
Office Hours: Tues 2:00–3:00PM & Thu 11:00-noon.
Email: elwert@wisc.edu

Yun Cho  Office Hours Location Email
Yun Cho  Tue 11AM  Wed 11AM  7110 Social Science  yuncho@wisc.edu
Hanif NuMan  Wed 11AM, Fri 10AM  8120 Social Science  hhuman@ssc.wisc.edu
Taylor Laemmli  Mon 1:30PM, Fri 10AM  2452 Social Science  tlaemml@ssc.wisc.edu

See section syllabi on the course website (https://learnuw.wisc.edu) for section meeting times and locations, readings, and announcements.

Course Description. The family is a fundamental building block of social life in at least two senses. First, families provide the context in which individual lives unfold: they set the stage for birth, life, love, and death. In this sense, families are “private institutions.” Second, families have consequences for the greater good: they educate children and care for the elderly, but they also play a major role in generating and perpetuating social inequalities. In this sense, families are “public institutions” that matter for society as a whole.

This course will examine families as private and as public institutions from the perspectives of family sociology and social demography. As such, it will focus primarily on aggregate patterns and historical trends within and between groups as defined by class, race, and gender, and less on individual experiences.

A major goal of this course is to learn about differences in family structure throughout history and in the contemporary United States. While it may be tempting to assume that there can only be one “best” or “natural” way to organize family life, research indicates that a fundamental constant in family structure is change. Consequently, it is a major goal of the course to evaluate critically our own assumptions about family structures and processes.

This is an introductory course designed for inquisitive students who are new to sociology. Seniors and other students with a background in social science are welcome, of course, but may alternatively wish to consider the more advanced family course Soc 640.
FORMAT

Lectures: You should read all assigned material before class. Have your notes ready and be prepared to ask and answer questions. Lectures will draw attention to select issues from the required readings, but also present new material not covered in the textbook. You are responsible for all material covered in lecture in addition to everything covered in the required readings. To facilitate note taking during lecture, I will post lecture outlines on the course website a few hours before lecture. Please print these outlines and bring them to class. If you need to miss a lecture, be sure to get lecture notes from a classmate.

Record contact information of two classmates here:

Name: __________________________  Email: __________________________

Name: __________________________  Email: __________________________

Sections: Weekly discussion sections give you the opportunity to engage with the material on a deeper level. Section discussions are an integral part of this course, and section attendance is mandatory. You must complete all required readings prior to section. Your TA will distribute a separate section handout with further instructions. Sections are your time to shine!

REQUIREMENTS

There are five requirements for passing Soc 120: (1) Doing the readings, (2) lecture attendance, (3) section attendance and participation, (4) three news reflections, and (5) two midterm exams.

Readings:

The majority of your readings are drawn from the textbook:

All additional required and recommended readings are available on the course website at Learn@UW.

I have intentionally kept the required reading load for this course at a very moderate level (under 40 pages in most weeks). In return, I ask that you engage the material in depth. You may find it helpful to team up with a group of classmates to discuss the readings; the study questions at the end of each chapter in your textbook are an excellent place to start. We encourage you to contribute the fruits of your out-of-class discussions in lecture and in section. You will enjoy this class more and get a better grade.

I have further placed a number of accessible and well-written books on various topics on reserve at College Library. These books present topics that are covered in lecture but are not (exhaustively) covered in your textbook. I recommend that you take a look and read around. You’ll find a complete bibliography on the last three pages of this syllabus.
Sections: Section is an important component of this course, accounting for 15% of your final grade (10% participation, 5% attendance).

Thoughtful participation is key. You will be graded on the quality, and not just the frequency, of your section participation. Prepare for section! Complete all readings in advance of section and contribute your questions, reflections, and observations. Engage your classmates creatively and constructively and advance the discussion.

Section attendance is required. You may miss up to two section meetings without penalty, no questions asked. It is your responsibility to make up all missed work, to obtain any handouts distributed in class, and to borrow notes from a classmate. Your attendance grade will drop to 2% with your third absence, and to 0% with your fourth absence. Please note that 5% for attendance is a big deal: 5% can amount to a full letter grade of your final grade. Note that if you have a medical or other emergency that prevents you from attending several section meetings, email both Professor Elwert and your TA to notify us of the circumstances.

News Reflection: You will compose three short reflections on current news related to select topics in Soc 120, accounting for a total of 15% of your final grade (5% each). The purpose of this assignment is to connect what you have learned in class to what’s going on in the world around you. For each reflection, you will find two news articles on a given topic that have appeared after September 3, 2013, summarize each article in up to two sentences on the first page, and then write an insightful 300-word mini-essay relating your articles to the material you learned in class. Reports are due at 9:30AM on the dates noted in the syllabus. Late assignments will receive a grade of zero without exception. Please see the instructions posted on the course website for details.

Exams: You will take two midterm exams, accounting for 70% of your final grade. All material presented in lecture and in your required readings is fair game. The exams will consist of multiple-choice questions that emphasize concepts, facts, and mechanisms discussed in class and in your readings. Additionally, each exam will include several fill-in-the-blank questions and two short essays. The exams are non-cumulative. Since I appreciate that everybody may have a “bad day” once in a while, I will give greater weight to your better midterm score: your higher score will count more (40%) and your lower score will count less (30%). Note: Your online schedule will list a “final exam” time. Pay no attention to it. There is no “final” in Soc 120 after classes end.

No Make-Up Exams: Unfortunately, a class of this size cannot accommodate make-up exams. If students are compelled to miss the first exam because of serious illness, a serious family emergency, or a required university-sponsored activity, their second exam will simply count more. In other words, there is no penalty for missing the first exam. Nevertheless, I strongly recommend that you take it. Past experience suggests that it is a bad idea to skip the first midterm hoping for a better grade on the second–too much will ride on a single exam; besides, success requires practice. Students compelled to miss the second exam must demonstrate compelling cause prior to the exam or receive a score of zero on the missed second midterm.
Grading Summary:

| | | |
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th></th>
<th></th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Exams</td>
<td>70%</td>
<td>40% for your higher midterm score, 30% for your lower score.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Section Attendance</td>
<td>5%</td>
<td>Up to two absences without deductions, 2-0% thereafter.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Section Participation</td>
<td>10%</td>
<td>Quality and preparedness are key.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>News Reflections</td>
<td>15%</td>
<td>5% each; no late submissions for any reason.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Total</td>
<td>100%</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Curve: Final grades will be curved to a median grade of B (but I do not curve down). Straight As are reserved for consistently excellent work; Experience suggests that approximately 15% of students will earn this distinction. Sustained effort is a prerequisite for a passing grade.

OTHER COURSE POLICIES

Special Needs: We gladly accommodate students with documented special needs. Students with special needs should contact the McBurney Disability Resource Center (http://www.mcburney.wisc.edu). If you wish to request or discuss academic accommodations, please contact me as soon as possible and no later than the second week of classes after lecture or during office hours.

Office Hours: Use them! This is your chance for one-on-one conversations with the professor and your TAs. Experience shows that many students neglect this resource. You don’t need an appointment to see the professor during office hours. I look forward to meeting you!

Grade disputes: You may contest exam grades up to two weeks after exams and assignments have been returned in section. Raise minor issues (e.g. computational errors in your score) with your TA. Any substantive concerns about the contents of your answer should be discussed with the professor.

Email Etiquette: Due to the large size of this class, please adhere to the following email etiquette. If you have questions or concerns, always check the course website and syllabus first. If you can’t find what you need there, contact your TA first. If issues remain, email me or come to my office hours.

Email is a professional communication tool, and proper form matters (e.g. salutation, syntax, signature). This website has examples and guidelines about emailing professors (the same courtesies should be shown for TAs): www.wikihow.com/Email-a-Professor We try to respond to all emails within two business days.

Working with Sources: Before submitting your written assignments, you are expected to study the excellent guidelines on the Writing Center website about “Quoting and Paraphrasing Sources” (http://writing.wisc.edu/Handbook/QuotingSources.html).

Plagiarism and Academic Integrity: Students who cheat or attempt to cheat will automatically receive a zero score for that exam or assignment. In addition, the incident will be reported in writing to the Dean of your school or college as well as the Dean of Students so that he/she may decide whether further disciplinary action is warranted. A clear definition of plagiarism as well as information about disciplinary sanctions for academic misconduct may be found at the Dean of Students web site: http://www.wisc.edu/students/saja/pdf/UWS14.pdf. Knowledge of these rules is your responsibility, and lack of familiarity with these rules in no way constitutes an excuse for acts of misconduct.
Course Outline

Subject to change, please monitor course announcements.

All non-textbook readings available on the course website.

September

3
Introduction
Required: Cherlin, pp. 4-17, 188-192

5
Kinship & Course Logistics
Required: Cherlin, pp. 39-44

10
Early European Family History
Required: Goldthorpe, Family Life in Western Societies, pp.8-16
Recommended: Coontz, “What’s Love Got To Do With It?” (Reader)
Required: Cherlin, pp. 45-48
Recommended: Goody, The European Family, Chapters 3-5

12
U.S. History I
Required: Cherlin, pp. 49-52, 60-64
Required: Coontz, “The Evolution of American Families”
Recommended: Goldthorpe, Family Life in Western Societies, Chapter 2, pp.18-40

17
U.S. History II
Required: Cherlin, pp 64-75

19
Sociological Approaches to the Family & Research Methods
Required: Cherlin, pp. 17-35

24
Gender I
Required: Cherlin, Chapter 3
Recommended: Maglaty, “When Did Girls Start Wearing Pink?”

26
Gender II
Required: Orenstein, “What’s Wrong with Cinderella?”
Required: West and Zimmerman, “Doing Gender.” (Reader)

October

1
Class, Status, and Families
Required: Cherlin, Chapter 4

3 Race and Ethnicity I
   Required: Cherlin pp. 53-56, 140-156
   Recommended: Franklin, “African Americans and the Birth of Modern Marriage”
   News Reflection #1 (gender) due at 9:30AM

8 Race and Ethnicity II
   Required: Cherlin, pp.56-59; 156-172

10 Sexual Orientation
   Required: Cherlin, pp. 175-190

15 Sex
   Required: Cherlin, pp. 190-214
   Recommended: Armstrong et al, “Is Hooking Up Bad for Young Women?”
   Recommended: Geronimus and Korenman, “The Socioeconomic Consequences of Teenage Childbearing Reconsidered”

17 Midterm I
   Social Science 6210, normal class time.

22 Marriage and Cohabitation I
   Required: Cherlin, pp.214-246

24 Marriage and Cohabitation II
   Required: Waite, “Does Marriage Matter?”

29 Work and Families I
   Required: Cherlin, pp. 249-254, 295-300
   Recommended: Bianchi, “Maternal Employment and Time with Children: Dramatic Change or Surprising Continuity?”

31 Work and Families II
   Required: Cherlin, pp.255-268
   Required: Hochschild, “Joey’s Problem” (Reader)
   News Reflection #2 (race) due at 9:30AM

November

5 Children and Parents
   Required: Cherlin, Chapter 9
Required: Lareau, “Invisible Inequality” (Reader)

7 Old Age and Widowhood
Required: Cherlin, Chapter 10

12 Divorce I
Required: Cherlin, pp. 373-388

14 Divorce II
Required: Cherlin, pp. 388-402

19 Divorce Effects and Causality
Required: Cherlin, pp. 388-402
Required: Li, “The Impact of Divorce on Children’s Behavior Problems”

21 Remarriage and Stepfamilies
Required: Cherlin, Chapter 13

26 Same-Sex Marriage
Required: Cherlin, 283-285
Required: Meezan & Rauch, “Gay Marriage, Same-Sex Parenting, and America’s Children” (Reader)
Recommended: “As gay marriage debate rages on, Massachusetts couple enjoys married life” (with reader comments)

28 Thanksgiving Recess (no class)

December
3 Legal Approaches to the Family; Domestic Violence
Required: Minow: Redefining Families
Required: Cherlin, Chapter 11

5 Family Change At Home and Abroad
Recommended: Lesthaeghe, “The Unfolding Story of the Second Demographic Transition”

News Reflection #3 (same-sex marriage) due at 9:30AM

10 Public Policy
Required: Cherlin, Chapter 14

12 Midterm II
Social Science 6210, normal class time.
Note: There is no “final exam” during exam period.
NON-TEXTBOOK REQUIRED AND RECOMMENDED READINGS

All of these readings are available online on the course website under “content.”

BOOKS ON RESERVE

This is a short list of great books for further reading on reserve at College Library. Many of these books are great reads, and would ideally supplement your studies. Take a look!

